Beta Theta Pi

Beta Theta Pi fraternity house, 800 Chautauqua.

Hidden in the rafters are Betas and their dates at the Barn Dance.

Vampires and the Marx Brothers give David Kearney, Andrea Kidd, Janet Bittner and Van Brown a chance to show off at a Halloween function.

Beta men liven up the Gamma Phi Beta Christmas formal.

The quest for excellence in all areas of university life has been the foundation of the Gamma Phi chapter of Beta Theta Pi. This tradition continued through the 1980-81 school year: Betas were leaders in academics, student government, intramurals and other campus activities.

Social events played a major role in the year's progress. The Victory Party in September was followed by a Dallas party and the annual Beta Barn Dance in November. A Valentine formal started the spring semester which ended with the Beta Lei.

Scholarship remains a high priority for the Betas; they retained the Inter-Fraternity Council 1st place award in 1981.

Many members were included in campus "top ten" lists and honor societies. Others were in the Campus Activities Council, Student Congress and Inter-Fraternity Council.

The men of Beta Theta Pi will always treasure the memories of the deep bond of brotherhood they have found at 800 Chautauqua.
